

We remain dedicated to the health and safety of our team and the communities in which we operate.

Across the country we are committed to staying operational and assisting brands return to stability and self-sufficiency as well as contributing to wider economic recovery.

In accordance with advice from the Australian Government, we have taken and continue to take several steps as the situation evolves.

Encouraging & Incentivising Vaccinations

COVID-19 Vaccination is not mandatory in our industry. We have encouraged our team to consider vaccination and provided financial incentives to fully vaccinated or medically-contraindicated team members.

Face Masks & Gloves

All team members are offered face masks and gloves and, where not compulsory, given the option to wear these on any shift.

Disinfected Equipment & Contactless Handover

Campaign equipment is either washed or disinfected between each shift. Where possible, equipment is prepared ahead of time to allow for contactless handover.

Encouraging Good Hygiene

Our team members are asked to stay home if unwell, wash hands regularly, social distance where possible and follow government advice.

Government Guidelines

We follow operating regulations and guidelines from government sources.

No Contact Campaigns

We offer many zero-contact or low-contact services, like Chalk Stencils and Bike Billboards. For more information, please speak with your sales representative.

Teams & Equipment in Every State

We have regular ground teams and a selection of equipment in every single state. This helps prevent team members crossing state borders and shipping delays.

Head Office

Several measures have been implemented in our office to reduce risk. These include QR code check ins, hand sanitiser, desk separation, separate office schedules, video meetings and work from home arrangements.
